

Parent Guide

@twinklparents

We're excited to share this activity with you. If you are interested in finding more exciting, fun and interesting activities for you and your children, then check out these links to different areas of the Twinkl Parents website.

games

crafts

puzzles

experiments

word searches

What is this resource and how do I use it?

Global education is an important part of your child's early years - it broadens their knowledge of the world, develops empathy for others and builds curiosity. It can also encourage a global mindset. This bright and colourful Japan Activity Booklet is packed full of fun worksheets, recipes, craft and other activities for families to work through together.

What skills does this practise?

Topic Knowledge - Japan

Empathy for other Cultures

Research Skills

Fine Motor Skills

Further Activity Ideas and Suggestions

We've included space at the end of this booklet where you can record things you may like to see in Japan - you can do some research to fill this in. If you've already been, record what you did.

Parents Blog

Twinkl Kids' TV

Homework Help

Parents Hub

Explore:

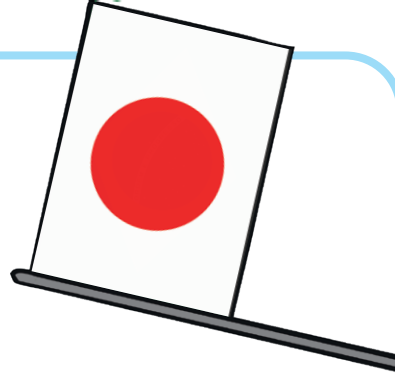

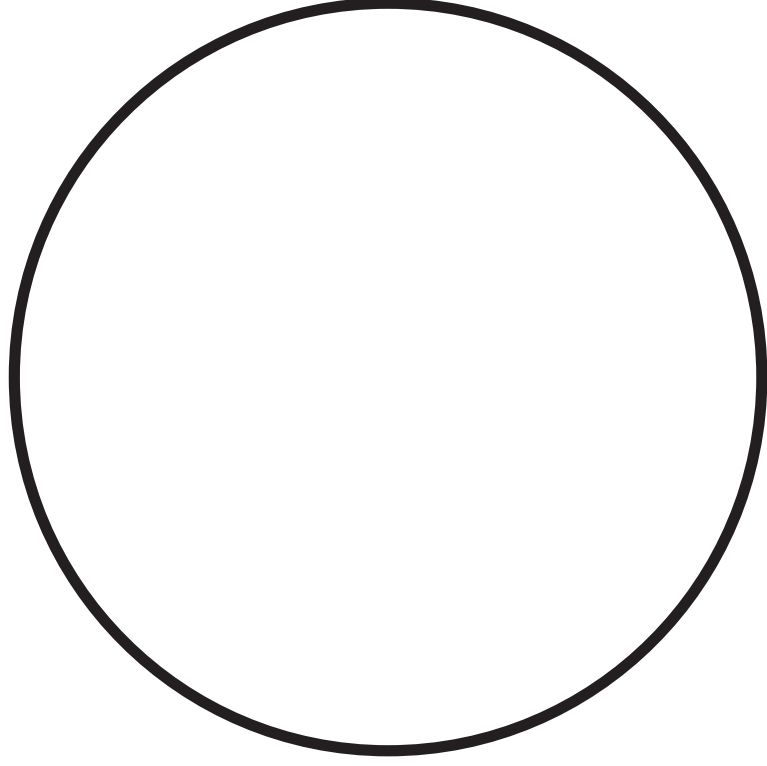

Japan

Japan

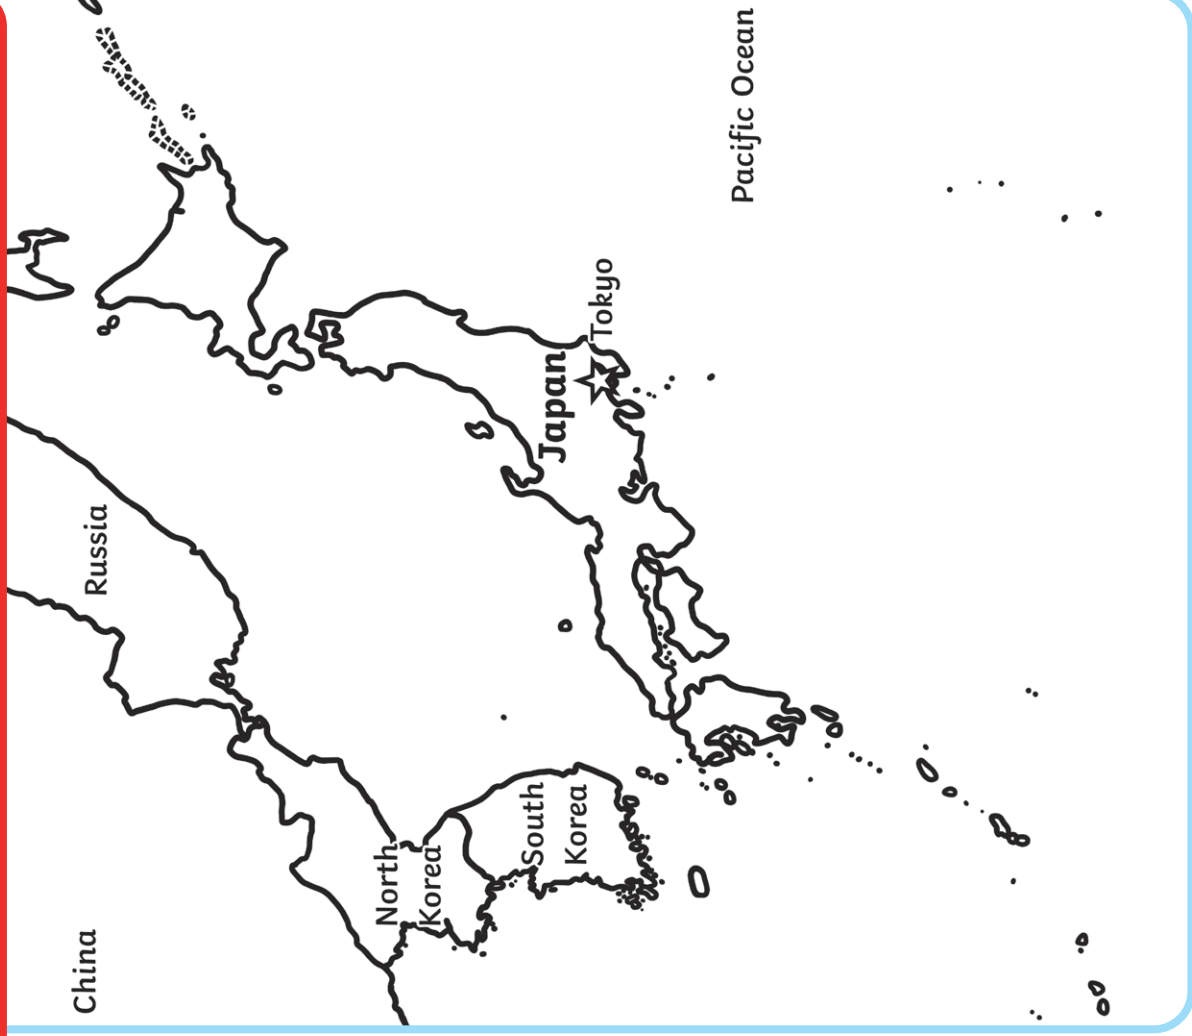

Colour in the Japanese Flag

Capital of Japan

A country's capital city is where its government works from. They are usually the people who make all the major decisions about how the country is run.

Can you do a little research and find out what the name of the capital city of Japan is, then write it on the map?

How do we say 'hello' in Japan?

Kon'nichiwa

Japanese Writing

Japanese writing uses different symbols to English, so writing looks very different. Trace over the word below - it means 'hello' or 'kon'nichiwa'.

こんにちは

Animals from Japan

Japan has some amazing native animals. This means they live in the wild in Japan. Some examples are the dugong, Japanese macaque and the red-crowned crane.

dugong

Japanese macaque

red-crowned crane

Can you do a bit of research and find one other animal native to Japan then draw a picture of it? Ask an adult if you need a bit of help!

.....

Sushi Recipe

Ingredients:

- sushi rice
- sushi vinegar
- nori (dried seaweed)
- selection of raw vegetables, thinly sliced in strips (carrot, cucumber, pepper)
- soy sauce

Equipment:

- bamboo sushi rolling mat

Method:

1

Cook the rice according to packet instructions.

2

When the rice is cooked, mix through about 3 tbsp of vinegar.

3

Allow the rice to cool.

4

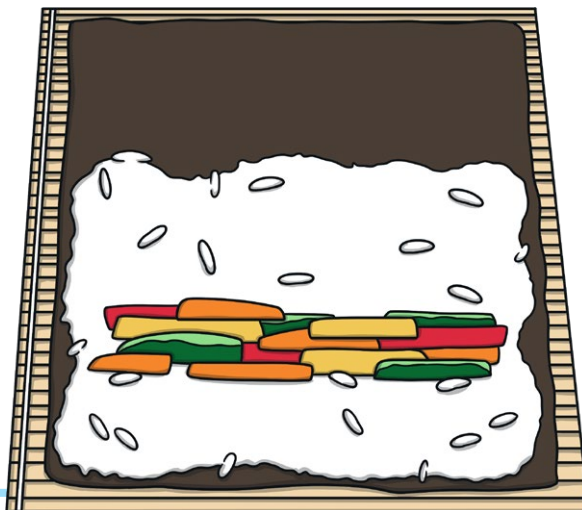

Lay a sheet of nori on top of the sushi mat with the shiny side facing down.

5

Spread a thin layer of rice (about 1cm thick) around the nori, leaving a strip 3cm thick at the end farthest from you. Pat the rice down into a layer.

6

About 3cm from the end closest to you, lay a strip of vegetables.

Sushi Recipe

Twinkl Tip:

When using rice, wet your fingertips a little to make it less sticky and easier to handle.

Method:

7

Using the bamboo mat to help you, roll the sushi up tightly - it should be rolling away from you. When you reach the empty strip of nori, lightly dampen it with water and continue to roll. Tighten the sushi mat around the whole roll to make it stick.

8

Once the roll is finished, remove it from the mat and cut into slices about an inch thick. If the pieces fall apart, you may need to roll more firmly next time.

9

Dip in soy sauce and enjoy!

Haiku Poetry

Haiku is a Japanese form of poetry that has three lines with five syllables (or 'beats'), then seven, then five again in each line. It doesn't rhyme.

An example of Haiku is:

Summer is over,
Days are getting shorter now,
Soon it's time for school.

Can you clap syllables or 'beats' of the lines? If you find it tricky, ask an adult to help.

Challenge:

Can you re-write the last line of the poem?
What else happens when summer is over?

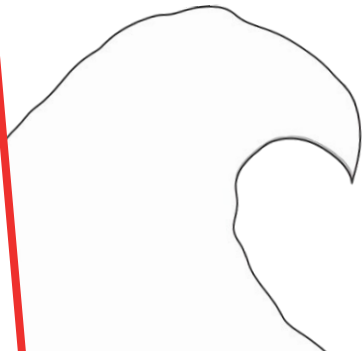

Japanese Art

One of Japan's most respected artists is Katsushika Hokusai. He is well known for his paintings and prints featuring Mount Fuji. One of his most famous paintings is 'The Great Wave'.

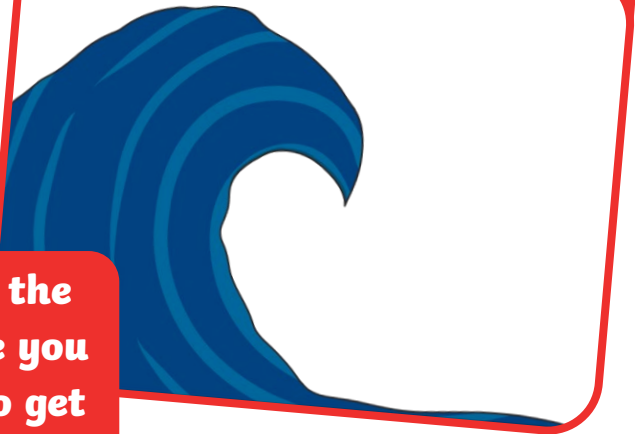

Can you try and paint a wave like Hokusai?

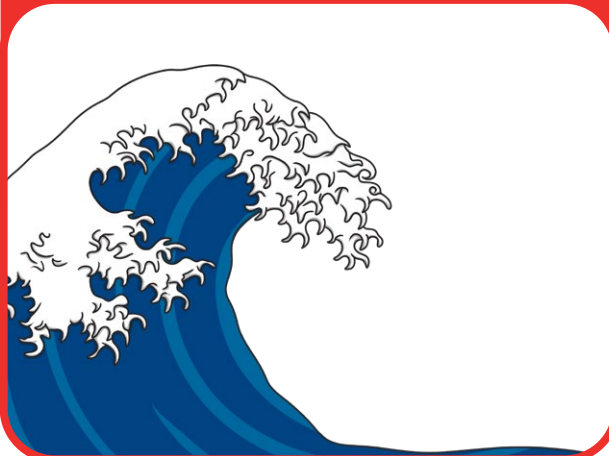

Practise making the curve of a wave first.

Colour with some blue watercolour paints. Why not try different shades of blue to create depth?

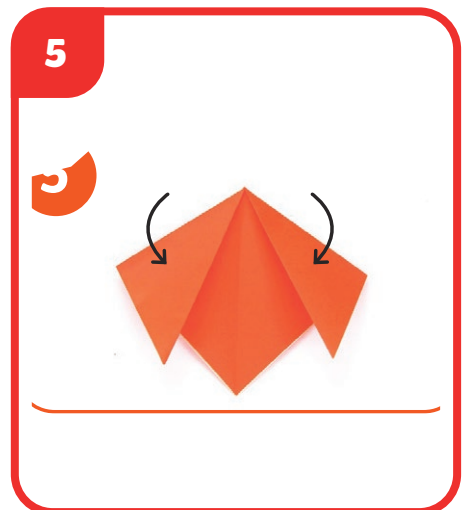

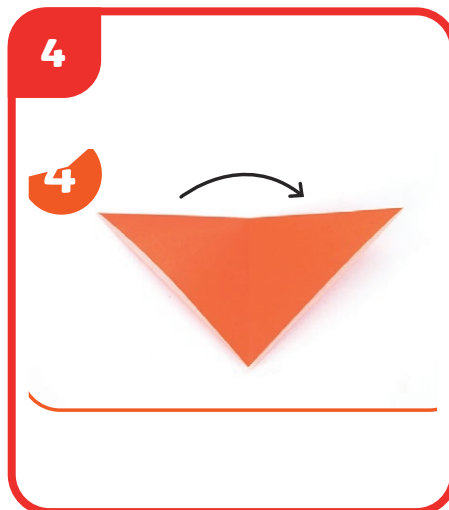

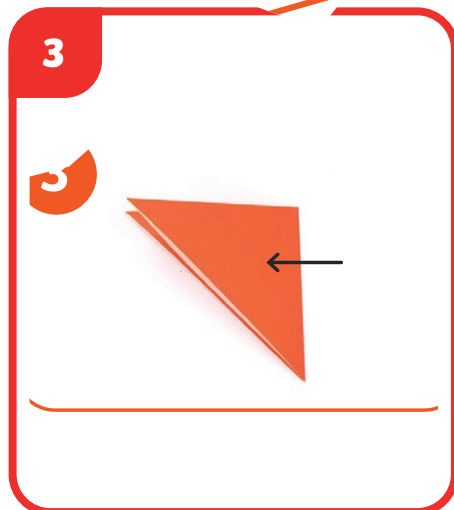

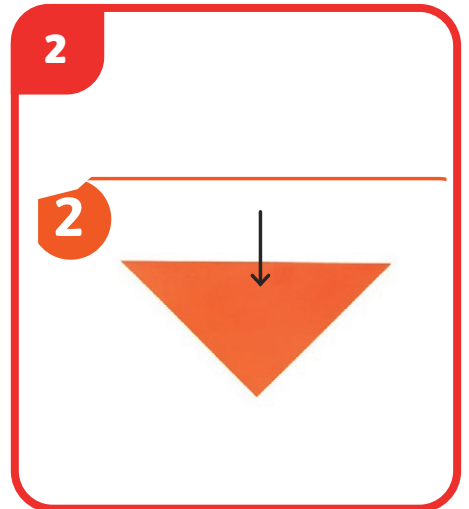

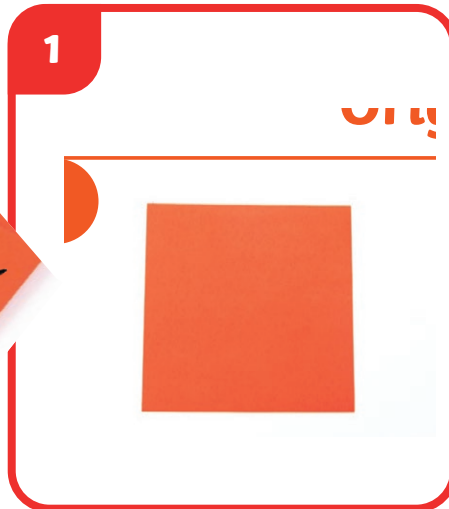

Now add some foam to the tip of your wave. Maybe you could use cotton buds to get a frothy effect.

Origami

Origami is the Japanese tradition of paper folding. You can make almost anything in origami - some things are very easy and some very complex. Give this cat origami a go:

In Japan, I...

Would you like to go to Japan or have you already been? Draw a picture of what you would like to see in Japan on this postcard. Then you can show your friends and family!

We hope you find the information on our website and resource useful. The description of any food or drink preparation or consumption activity contained within this resource is intended as a general guide only. It may not fit your specific situation. You should not rely on the resource to be right for your situation. It is your responsibility to decide whether to carry out the activity at all and, if you do, to ensure that the activity is safe for those participating. You are responsible for carrying out proper risk assessments on the activities and for providing appropriate supervision. We are not responsible for the health and safety of your group or environment so, insofar as it is possible under the law, we cannot accept liability for any loss suffered by anyone undertaking the activity or activities referred to or described in this resource. It is also your responsibility to ensure that those participating in the activity are able to do so and that you or the organisation you are organising it for has the relevant insurance to carry out the activity. It is also your responsibility to note that ingredients or materials used might cause allergic reactions or health problems and to ensure that you are fully aware of the allergies and health conditions of those taking part. If you are unsure, always speak to a suitably qualified health professional.

We hope you find the information on our website and resource useful. The description of any physical activity contained within this resource is intended as a general guide only. It may not fit your specific situation. You should not rely on the resource to be right for your situation. It is your responsibility to decide whether to carry out the activity at all and, if you do, to ensure that the activity is safe for those participating. You are responsible for carrying out proper risk assessments on the activities and for providing appropriate supervision. We are not responsible for the health and safety of your group or environment so, insofar as it is possible under the law, we cannot accept liability for any loss suffered by anyone undertaking any activity or activities referred to or described in this resource. It is also your responsibility to ensure that those participating in the activity are fit enough to do so and that you or the organisation you are organising it for has the relevant insurance to carry out the physical activity. If you are unsure in any way, we recommend that you take guidance from a suitably qualified professional.